RE: INDIAN HOUSE CROW

It has been brought to our attention that the Indian House Crow (Corvus splendens), an exotic and highly invasive bird species has been identified as a pest by the Kenya Wildlife Service in collaboration with various stakeholders. The Bird has spread in the coastal region and may invade other regions.

PCPB therefore intends to consider products for registration to manage the pest.

We therefore request companies who may wish to submit applications for registration of products for the control of the Indian House Crow to do so.

Thank you.
